Dear Donors, Colleagues, Volunteers & Friends,

We’ve got some exciting projects going on here in Chesapeake!

As part of our goal to help end homelessness in our communities we’re developing a 35-unit housing community & homeless resource center in Howard County, MD and beginning our first HUD Certified Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO) in Arlington County, VA.

We believe one of the most critical factors in ending homelessness is providing quality, affordable housing for those in need. As a leader in housing development Volunteers of America has become the go-to organization to develop, plan and execute successful housing programs throughout our region.

Our organization not only has the infrastructure to develop housing communities, but the expertise to provide critical supportive services and programs as well, programs like Operation Backpack 2014.

Now in our 3rd year, Operation Backpack has expanded beyond the backpack, providing after school tutors, enrichment trips and improved access to technology for homeless and low-income students in need. With you help and the help of our new media partners like WUSA9 we’ve doubled our capacity to care this year!

But it’s not just all work at Chesapeake, we’re also welcoming 4 new Board Members to our family, joining forces with the MLB Players Trust’s Buses for Baseball program and raffling off prizes from our partners like The Washington Nationals, WUSA9 and Sport&Health Fitness Clubs.

As the seasons change, be sure to stay up-to-date with activities like Harvest for Hope and your opportunity to Sweat for a Vet in our 2014 Veterans fitness fundraiser. Don’t forget to sign up for volunteer opportunities on our website and stay connected through our Facebook and Twitter pages.

Thank you for your continued support of our organization and the clients we serve and I look forward to working together to build stronger communities throughout our region.

Blessings,
During FY 2014, twenty people volunteered to serve in Ministry as Spiritual Lay Leaders to assist with Volunteers of America Chesapeake’s spiritual development.

It is a volunteer responsibility. The key responsibility is to pray, even though a number of spiritual initiatives are facilitated by Spiritual Lay Leaders. They facilitate them before work, during lunch, or after work. Most Spiritual Lay Leaders are not available to facilitate sessions, because of their work responsibilities, but pray regularly for what needs support and participate in spiritual retreats for their own spiritual development. Praying is the most powerful action we can take (with God in the mix and on the team, things improve for the better even if it appears to be taking a long time.)

One Spiritual Lay Leader expressed her role as follows: “Be available for clients or staff when there is an opportunity or need to assist; realizing when God’s people have a need or concern, we can help by praying, sharing His Holy Word, and/or being His compassionate kindness.”

Being a Spiritual Lay Leader should have a positive impact on our work. It should help our minds to remain clear and responsive to what needs attention. The role is not intended to add work. The purpose is to cover the environment, clients, staff, and challenges with prayer. Many of our Spiritual Lay Leaders are prayer “keepers” doing just that.

Our Spiritual Lay Leaders are:

- Elvada Allen
- Ed Biscorff
- Linnette Bradley
- Letitia Brown
- Patricia Bunting
- Brenda Clark
- Tanea Cooper
- Al Cole
- Rochelle Davis
- Kristina Deignan
- Mercy Faturoti
- Lionel Gloster
- Tamara D. Kotey
- Jacqueline Hall
- Pastor Kim Johnson
- Zulema Joseph
- Tamara Lester
- Cheryl Lindsey

- Tami Shaw

The purpose of a Volunteers of America Spiritual Lay Leader is to: “Support the Spiritual Development of Clients and Staff.”

The 2014 Spiritual Development Monthly Calendar includes the Following:

The Public Television Ministry is available on Public Broadcasting TV Stations in Maryland, Northern Virginia, and Washington, DC.

What We’ve Been Up To

1. In April, Girl Scout Troup #1807 mobilized a food drive in support of our Loudoun County Homeless Services Center collecting more than $2,000 worth of nonperishable food items. The troop also made a generous $1,000 donation towards future food purchases for our shelter.

2. In July, clients from our DC Core Services Agency pose after a successful fashion and talent show showcasing spoken word pieces, songs, art displays and cultural dress.

3. In June, Scott Miller of Eagle Bank accepted an award from the Washington Business Journal for being one of Greater Washington’s most charitable companies. Our Chief Business Development Officer Rob Malone was on hand to congratulate him.

4. In June Ms. Sandra Penn celebrates 20 years of service to Arlington County as she is honored along with 2 other co-workers at our Residential Program Center’s 20th Anniversary celebration.

5. In May, a volunteer applies a much needed coat of paint at one of our 16 mental health residential homes throughout Prince George’s County.

6. In July coaches and players from the Prince William County Youth Football Association helped plant flowers and landscape one of our Northern Virginia homes for individuals with intellectual disabilities.

In June representatives from Morgan Stanley paid a visit to our Residential Program Center to learn more about our services and discuss ways in which Morgan Stanley can become a community partner and support our efforts to end homelessness in Greater Washington. CC
Volunteers of America Chesapeake is one of the largest homeless services providers in Northern Virginia, serving more than 1,800 individuals and families with children each year. We also provide permanent supportive housing for persons with intellectual disabilities and a growing number of Veterans.

Our services are aligned with local efforts to prevent and end homelessness and our partnerships with organizations like The Veterans Administration and The Department of Human Services allow our organization directly improve the lives of our most vulnerable neighbors.

With your help we are working to do more in our communities by developing affordable housing and strengthening our outreach.

Now in its 5th Year, Harvest for Hope is our signature fundraiser in support of homeless services and outreach in Northern Virginia. You can learn more about our Northern Virginia services and join us in strengthening our communities by visiting www.voachesapeake.org/HarvestforHope.
Students from Thurgood Marshall Academy team up with our Prince George’s Mental Health Program and Operation Backpack 2014.

“Students from Thurgood Marshall Academy in South East DC rolled up their sleeves in support of our Prince George’s Mental Health Program. These incoming freshmen are doing more than just working towards volunteer hours; they’re preparing themselves to be community leaders and agents of change in our region.

“Our school thought we should start early on our community service requirements so they offer us summer opportunities to help us make our hours” said incoming freshmen Aaron W. as he helped to repaint shutters for our home. “I’m looking forward to starting high school, making new friends and attending events like prom and graduation.”

The student volunteers are part of Thurgood Marshall’s Summer Prep Program which helps incoming freshmen and sophomores get acclimated to high school life and the culture of Thurgood Academy.

“We’re focused on college readiness,” said Summer Prep Dean Amber Owens “The students who participate in the summer program get a feel for the culture of our school before they start and it helps them to be more successful in class. We’re also removing some of the anxiety around community service and introducing them to their communities so we can help them be better leaders.”

Volunteers of America Chesapeake is a proud supporter of Thurgood Marshall Academy and the Summer Prep Program. “The partnership is a great fit” said Communications Coordinator and Operation Backpack Campaign Manager Danielle Milner. “The Summer Prep program not only provides these students with opportunities to serve their community but it also provides academic enrichment to ensure their success throughout the year, just like our Operation Backpack program.”

In addition to community service initiatives the Summer Prep students also work on math and reading skills to ensure they are prepared for classes in the fall. Our partnership helps us provide these students with ways to assist our neighbors in need as well as ways to support academic success. You can help support partnerships through Operation Backpack by donating today.

Housing America’s Most Vulnerable

“Stable housing is the foundation upon which people build their lives—absent a safe, decent, affordable place to live, it is next to impossible to achieve good health, positive educational outcomes or reach one’s economic potential.”
President Barack Obama in his 2010 Federal Strategic Plan to End Homelessness

Here at Volunteers of America we agree. The need for permanent, affordable housing is a critical factor in addressing and ending homelessness in our region. Since 1896 we’ve been committed to meeting that need for our neighbors. To date we are the nation’s leading nonprofit affordable housing developer and as the needs of our community increase, so does our commitment.

This year we’re embarking on housing development projects designed to support and strengthen our communities.

In Howard County, MD we’re developing a supportive housing community that will be home to 35 Single-Room Efficiency Apartments (SEA) and provide chronically homeless individuals with special needs programming and permanent supportive housing. The housing center will also offer an enhanced day resource center operated in partnership with Grassroots Crisis Intervention Center. The resource center will deliver community-based workforce development, financial literacy, primary health care services and access to an on-site service coordinators and social services.

The 30,612 sq./ft. building will be a three floor constructed housing center. The first floor will serve its residents with medical exam rooms, kitchen and cafeteria, food pantry, and clothing donations. The second and third floors will house the SEA apartments, case management offices and an outdoor terrace.

“As part of the County’s plan to end homelessness, there are some gaps in homeless services and while it has some emergency and transitional housing, there is a need for permanent housing with supportive services,” said our President & CEO Russ Snyder. “The new construction of this affordable supportive housing project and community facility, in a sparse housing and commercial area of the jurisdiction, will have a positive community impact by generating the creation of opportunities for additional affordable housing and economic development. This project has received strong financial support from the jurisdictions legislative and executive branches, along with support from civic associations. We are looking forward to working with the Housing Commission to serve those in need in Howard County.”

With groundbreaking set to begin in the Fall of 2014 this Howard County Project is just one of 2 resources we are providing to the communities we serve.
In addition to our Howard County project, we’re also taking the lead in Northern Virginia by becoming a HUD Certified Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO).

What is a CHDO?
A CHDO is an organization formed by our nonprofit for the purpose of providing supportive housing services for individuals in need. Our first CHDO in Northern Virginia will start focusing on the need to provide quality affordable housing and supportive services for individuals with an intellectual disability and will eventually expand into delivering affordable housing to Veterans and the chronically homeless.

Why form a CHDO and why target Northern Virginia?
A recent department of justice ruling mandates that the state of Virginia begin a process to transition individuals with intellectual disabilities into supported community living programs. With limited government funds available for this project, the burden of care will land heavily on already burdened jurisdictions throughout Northern Virginia. That’s where Volunteers of America Chesapeake steps in to fill the gap for our region’s most vulnerable neighbors.

Not only do we have a strong presence in Arlington through our Homeless Services and Substance Abuse Programs, but we’re also experts in the field of intellectual disabilities services. “In addition to our new CHDO, we currently operate three programs supporting 92 individuals with intellectual disabilities. Our programs extend throughout Northern Virginia, Hampton Roads and the Greater Washington area,” said the Vice President of Intellectual Disabilities Services, Belinda Tiller. “With more than 16 years of expertise in the field, our focus is to support individuals to live more meaningful lives. This year we have also expanded our services in Virginia Beach with the opening of a four bedroom home that will provide residential supports.”

When will our communities start to benefit?
We are currently working with state and local governments to acquire properties and anticipate delivery of services to begin in the Spring of 2015. Once up and running, our goal is to take a strategic approach to forming other CHDOs in areas of great need, including Baltimore City, Prince George’s County and the surrounding Greater Washington and Northern Virginia areas.

These CHDOs would address housing needs for veterans, those struggling with mental illness, and the chronically homeless.

Who is leading the charge in Arlington?

- John. G. Shooshan
  The Shooshan Company
- Joseph Onyebuchi
  Citizens Advisory Commission on Housing
- Matthew D. Shank, PhD.

What else is VOA Chesapeake doing to help those with Intellectual Disabilities?
In addition to our CHDO and our Northern Virginia Community Living Centers Program, we’re also expanding our Intellectual Disabilities services in Virginia Beach. In the spring, our organization added a new residential home in Hampton Roads providing residential resources like life skills training and support, financial management, and health care. Learn more about our ID Services Programs at www.voachesapeake.org/IDservices. CC
“Our daughter Shana has some intellectual and physical disabilities which have prevented her from being totally independent in her life and as a result she needs an environment that can provide her care not easily provided at home. When one is dealing with a situation like this where parents are turning over the care of a loved one to a provider, then trust is a huge factor.

When we were introduced to Volunteers of America we felt like the organization wanted to provide good care tailored to our daughter’s needs. The program was welcoming and responsive to all our needs and questions. As parents we’re convinced that as we get older our daughter is in good hands for her future. We also feel that VOA is determined to be the leader in providing nurturing care for men and women with Intellectual Disabilities and is dedicated to setting in place and maintaining best-in-class practices.”

Operation Backpack 2014 Recap

Together, we made Operation Backpack 2014 a success!

With thousands of items ordered, shipped, collected and delivered Operation Backpack 2014 was an overwhelming success!

We couldn’t be more excited about our new donors and our Operation Backpack partners in WUSA9 and the Washington area Toyota dealers.

“Being a part of Operation Backpack is always a great experience for my kids,” said Ms. Mason, mother of our 2014 Spokesmen Kaloni and Kamori. “They had a great time helping to spread the message about the campaign and of course getting to pick out their backpacks.”

“Being on the news was the best part. Everyone got to see us on TV!” said 10 year old Kaloni who has started to develop acting aspirations after appearing in several WUSA9 news clips and spots promoting both our online campaign and our donation drop sites.

You can check out behind the scenes photos from our campaign and Kaloni & Kamori’s segments on our Volunteers of America Chesapeake Facebook page.
